

Department of Philosophy
Faculty of Humanities and Social Science in Rijeka

and

HDAF
Croatian Society for Analytic Philosophy

Invite you to the interdisciplinary international conference:
Psychopathy: scientific and social challenges

On Monday 03.07.2017 and Tuesday 04.07.2017.

Filozofski fakultet, Sveučilišna avenija 4, Rijeka

Monday 03.07.2017

The neuropsychological modification of offenders Philosophical workshop on Thomas Douglas in collaboration with the Summer School Equality and Citizenship ROOM 106
09.00–09.15	Welcoming address by the members of the organizing board, the academic and the public authorities
09.15–10.45	Thomas Douglas (Oxford Uehiro Centre for Practical Ethics, University of Oxford) The 'Mere Substitution' Defence of Nudging and Its Implications for Neurointerventions
10.45–11.15	Coffee break
11.15–12.15	John McMillan (Division of Health Sciences, University of Otago, CEASCRO Project) Neuro-interventions, diagnosis and coercion: what are the limits of therapy?
12.15–13.05	Elvio Baccharini (Department of Philosophy, University of Rijeka) Moral Bioenhancement of Criminal Offenders
13.05–14.20	Lunch break
The classification and explanation of psychopathy: scientific and philosophical perspectives ROOM 402
14.20–15.10	David Cooke (Faculty of Psychology, University of Bergen) Psychopathy: Diagnostic challenges and their implications for interventions
15.10–16.00	Inti Brazil (Donders Institute for Brain, Cognition and Behaviour, Radboud University, Nijmegen) Classification and treatment of antisocial individuals: From behaviour to biocognition
16.00–16.20	Coffee break
16.20–17.10	Janko Međedović (Institute of Criminological and Sociological Research, University of Belgrade) What shall we do with psychopathy? A nomological network approach as a rationale for narrowing the construct of psychopathy

Tuesday 04.07.2017

ROOM 402

Social response to psychopathy and antisocial personality disorders: Legal and institutional international perspectives
09.00–9.50	Franco Scarpa (Unità Operativa Complessa nell'OPG di Montelupo Fiorentino, Italy) and Luca Castelletti (Ospedale Psichiatrico Giudiziario di Castiglione delle Stiviere di Mantova, Italy) From the closure of Italian forensic hospitals to a new deal in care: legislative, therapeutical and ethical issues in the Italian Reform of forensic sector
9.50–10.40	Dalida Rittossa (Faculty of Law University of Rijeka, CEASCRO Project) Offenders with Antisocial Personality Disorder in Court Practice – A Croatian Perspective
10.40–11.00	Coffee break
Psychopathy in historical and literary perspectives
11.00–11.50	Katariina Parhi (History of Science and Ideas, University of Oulu) The Birth and Death of the Diagnosis of Psychopathy in Finland, 1900s-1960s
11.50–12.40	Vanni D'Alessio (Department of History, University of Rijeka, CEASCRO Project), Filip Čeč (Department of Philosophy, University of Rijeka, CEASCRO Project) and Heike Karge (Department of History, University of Regensburg, CEASCRO Project) The concept of psychopathy in historical perspective. Sketches from former Habsburg Croatia and Italy
12.40–14.00	Lunch break
14.00–14.50	Iris Vidmar (Department of Philosophy, University of Rijeka) The evil that men do: portrayals of psychopaths in works of narrative art
The CEASCRO project
14.50–15.40	Zdenka Brzović, Predrag Šustar, and Marko Jurjako (Department of Philosophy, University of Rijeka, CEASCRO PROJECT) The kindness of psychopathy
15.40–16.10	Coffee break
16.10–17.00	Luca Malatesti (Department of Philosophy, University of Rijeka, CEASCRO Project) The Ceascro project: results, hypotheses and further investigations

The conference is an output of the CEASCRO project that is supported by the Croatian Science Foundation (Grant 8071)

Conference organised by:
Zdenka Brzović, Marko Jurjako,
Dalida Rittossa, Filip Čeč,
Vanni D'Alessio, Luca Malatesti